February 28 is the last day for applications to be filed in the county office for payment on sales made in October, November and December.

The next pay period is January, February and March. Sales tickets for this quarter are due in the county office April 1.

Not All 4-F's Are Scheduled by the Latest Orders

Press reports from Washington this week indicated that young men of 4-F classification might be inducted into the armed forces under Selective Service. Official regulations do not make such a provision. As a matter of fact there are probably not more than two or three in Randall county who will come within the call.

The new regulations states: "Registrants previously examined and found qualified for limited military service, and do not qualify for induction or assignment without an additional preinduction physical examination."

Harden and Heath Have Moved to New Building

The new building of Harden and Heath on Fourth Avenue is practically complete. The firm moved to its offices in the west part of the building this week, and in this issue of The News announced its opening at the new location.

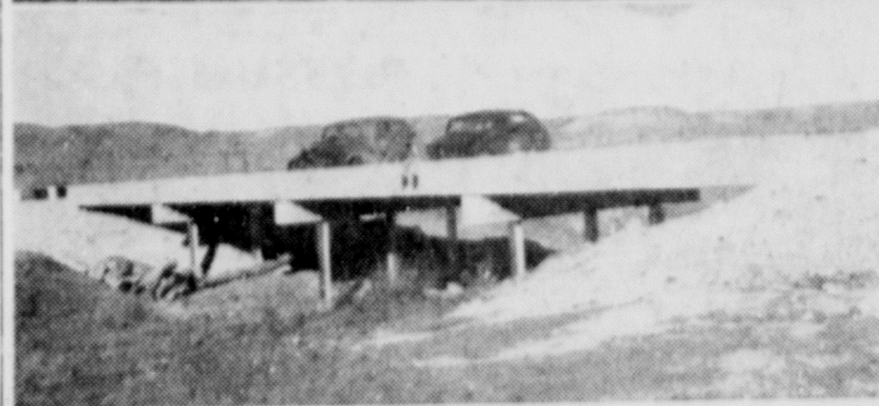

The east part of the building will be occupied by the Mickle Barber Shop. Fixtures are being set for the barber shop, and it is likely that the shop will move to its new location during the coming week.

When the barber shop moves, Clay Cooper plans to start razing the old buildings on the corner preparatory to erecting the new store building for the M System.

Peter Meyers left last week for an extended visit with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Hazel Rice, in Austin.

Mrs. Ruby Zachry Davis is working with Mrs. Robert Parsons in the Buffalo Beauty Shop.

Work Will Be Started at Once to Provide More Housing for the Students

A long range dormitory building program involving an expenditure of $675,000, of which $300,000 is to be spent immediately, has been approved by the West Texas State College board of regents.

Bonds totaling $380,000 have been sold to Houston and Chicago firms for par value and an average interest rate of 2.8. This rate is said to be one of the best given any Texas educational institution in recent issues.

To provide more housing for war veterans, a 100-man capacity brick addition to Terrill Hall for men will be started as soon as plans can be completed and the contract let. This will be of one-story construction. The cost will approximate $175,000.

Another building will house a college cafeteria which will have a seating capacity of 400 persons, plus a small dining room of 100 capacity. The location of the cafeteria has not yet been decided.

Close Dining Halls

It will be of brick construction and will cost about $150,000. When the cafeteria is completed, all other dining rooms on the campus will be closed and the space converted to other uses. Both the cafeteria and the Terrill Hall addition are to be ready by fall.

A third construction project will involve the razing of Cactus and Mesquite lodges, which are frame cooperative homes for girls, and using the materials in a 50-girl capacity dormitory. This work will be done next summer. The dormitory will be located south of the Randall Hall annex, construction of which has been started by C. S. Lambie of Amarillo, the contractor. Work on this $80,000 annex was interrupted by the war. Originally to have been of stone, it will be completed with brick.

Completion of the cafeteria will not mean that cooperative living will be abandoned at Randall Hall and other units. Girls who wish to work for part of their living expenses will be given first claim to work in the cafeteria, and will share the duties of maintaining the cooperative halls. All students will eat at the cafeteria, however.

A new dormitory opposite Cousins Hall for girls and a large annex to Stafford Hall for men are to be built when conditions permit. Other building projects not financed by pledging revenues will include the proposed West Texas State chapel to cost $50,000 and the $60,000 two-story annex to the Plains Museum.

Hill Attends Meeting

Action on the W. T. building program was reported by President J. A. Hill, who with Business Manager Virgil Henson and M. O. Carder of Amarillo, architect, attended the meeting of the Board of Regents in Austin last week.

Dr. Hill also attended a banquet given the regents by the San Marcos chamber of commerce.

THE CASE OF ICKES

The case of Harold Ickes is no mystery when you look at the facts. Ickes is a federal man, an ardent New Dealer, who would curb every activity that is not controlled by Washington.

He rules with an iron hand, and gives no quarters to his enemies.

Several years ago he started out to control the oil industry of the nation. He has been seeking to extend federal control to oil in the coastal waters which are now under control of the states.

If Ickes had his way, Texas would lose control of valuable oil lands in the Gulf of Mexico; the state would lose revenue from these lands; and the federal government would take over the oil.

State officials are fearful that should the Ickes idea prevail that it would not be long until the federal government would step in and take control of all natural resources within the boundary of Texas.

For Texas, oil furnishes more than half of the state's revenues. If Texas were deprived of these revenues the state would be set back at least 50 years so far as its public functions were concerned—schools, colleges, and other public services. Ickes has made no denial of his intention.

The President seeks to appoint Edwin Pauley as under secretary of the navy. He comes from California, which has coastal oil lands, like Texas. He is opposed to the Ickes idea of the federal government taking over these oil lands. While Ickes may be an able and honest man in handling the affairs of his department, his ideas clash with those who believe in state rights.

Ickes is bombastic and when he explodes he blows the roof off. He virtually pinned the lie on the President. It has been no secret that Truman has not been over-enthusiastic about Ickes, and might have asked for his resignation in the coming months. It is nothing more than natural that the President wishes, and is entitled to cabinet members of his own choice, rather than having to continue a cabinet which was chosen by Roosevelt.

It is indicated that Ickes will join the CIO Political Action Committee, along with Mrs. Roosevelt. These two may succeed in defeating the Democratic party in 1946 and 1948. On the other hand the people may be thoroughly awakened to the political bombshell which is carried by this group and will kick out the whole outfit.

We shall see what we shall see.

The News has been impressed with the idea of Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, who is an avowed candidate for the Republican nomination for president. We like Stassen because of the enemies that he is making within his own party. Leaders of the party, such as Governor Dewey and Senator Taft, have their knives out for Stassen. The reactionary group will try to control the party in 1948 with the view of side-tracking Stassen and selecting a man of their own class. Stassen resigned his office as governor to enter the navy. He was not satisfied with a desk job in Washington, but got out where the shooting war was going on. He never ducked a hard job. When the war ended Stassen was selected one of the American delegates for the San Francisco convention. He was an active and intelligent member. He went right down the line with Senator Tom Connally and Senator Vandenberg in an effort to write a lasting peace. He has announced that he is not interested in being U. S. Senator from Minnesota, but wants to be President. He is a rank upstart in the eyes of the old line Republican leaders. He will be the man they will try to sidetrack. We hope they do not succeed. He is a mid-westerner, and speaks the language of the people of the west. And 1948 is not far off.

The big strikes may be over by the time this is printed, or we may have another outburst which will further delay reconversion. The News hopes that a settlement may be made. But we are fearful of the final results. The move is definitely on to put the squeeze on small business men of the nation. Every government agency that we have heard of is definitely trying to boost wages throughout the nation. That would be fine if the small business man was able to increase his prices to meet the raise which is being suggested. But OPA is holding the lid on tight, thereby holding goods off the market, and continuing the wartime scarcity. When business firms are forced to increase their overhead by boosting wages, and are not allowed to increase selling prices, there is only one ultimate goal—suspense of business or bankruptcy. America was built by the small business men scattered over the nation. Canyon is a more prosperous town than a hundred small concerns, but it would be if all of the business were controlled by one firm. Our government economy goes haywire when it seeks to put small business concerns out of the picture. Yet that is exactly what is going on. Perhaps the small towns and small business concerns of the nation will discover what is going on before it is too late. The 3,000,000 federal employees payroll of the war is not being decreased, but more people are being put on the federal payroll by Washington in order that the bureaucrats may be assured that control is being wrapped around the necks of the people more securely in the years that are ahead.

The News has been receiving several political so-called newspapers, which are published in Austin. It is amusing to read them. All of them are published from a purely selfish angle. Each one has some kind of political propaganda which it is trying to put over. Two of the sheets came in this week. One is bitterly opposed to the Governor. It takes up the postcard poll which was recently made. This sheet claims that the Governor and his friends were bitterly surprised and disgusted at the results of the poll. This sheet claims that the poll shows that the people are through with Stevenson, and would not support him for a third term. Just how the paper got its information is not revealed. The other political sheet is friendly to the Governor. It likewise discusses the poll. It says that the poll reveals that the people of Texas want Stevenson to run again and that he would be elected in the first primary, with more than 50% of the voters supporting his candidacy. Just how these two sheets could get so radically different expressions from the same poll is puzzling to the people who happen to read the papers. However, we take it that they are very few subscribers to either sheet, and very few people pay any attention to the opinions of the two publishers. Be that as it may, the Governor is still calculating, and has not told the people what he intends to do. He has often said that he did not want to run again, and therefore he thinks that some good friend could win the election. There are certain candidates whom he wants to see defeated, even if he has to make a sacrifice to do it.

The Democratic State Executive Committee will meet again Friday for the purpose of taking final action on the resolution which was presented several months ago. This resolution proposes that the Democratic party of Texas should punish all who did not vote for the Roosevelt ticket in 1944. The original resolution provided that all such voters be barred from the party until they got down on their knees and repented their sins! Harry Seay, state chairman, has finally taken time to look up the law. He finds that his committee is powerless, and he is reported to be in favor of shelving the whole scheme, and forgetting the plan which had been proposed. In the light of the attempt to disfranchise Democrats who carried Texas for Hoover, and the breakdown of that movement, the present State Committee could have saved itself a lot of fretting and fuming had it ignored the present resolution, which was sponsored by some brainless wonder of the committee. Harry Seay now wants political peace. Maybe he will get it after Friday's session.

"UNEXCELLED PRESCRIPTION SERVICE"

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Ray

Great Presidents Equally Revered—

WASHINGTON—MASTER OF MOUNT VERNON AT 19, WAS A MEMBER OF THE LANDED GENTRY.

LINCOLN—BORN AND REARED IN A LOG CABIN, KNEW POVERTY AND WANT.

Yet, in our Democracy, it was possible for both men to rise to leadership and to attain the highest office in our land.

This Month We Honor Both

The Governor of Georgia visited Texas last week on a speaking tour. He was paid to speak in several towns. He is said to be a very progressive and intelligent state executive, who hopes to go places politically. He was scheduled to speak in Austin at a meeting sponsored by a group of women who stand for "educational freedom," whatever that is. A reception was held by these women, but they failed to invite Governor Coke Stevenson to attend, either the reception, or the speech by the visiting Governor of Georgia. The reason was obvious. This group of women have as their fairy god the deposed president of the University of Texas. His election as governor of Texas, or reinstatement as president of the university is the only thing which will satisfy them. The mails have been full of so-called press reports from this group about the visit of the Georgia Governor. The group brazenly compares the situation in Georgia to that in Texas. These women fail to point out that it was a former governor of Georgia who attempted to run the university of that state; whereas the Governor of Texas refused to dictate the policies of the University of Texas by appointing only such members of the board of regents who were sworn to do the will of this group of women. Since the women of Austin snubbed Governor Stevenson, the Governor of Georgia went to the Texas capitol to pay his respects to the Governor of Texas. Freedom—what do you think!

We have been hearing such dire predictions as what was going to happen in the future that most of us have become impervious to fear. We have heard so much about the Russian beast that we have wondered just when the big bad bear was going to get us. Now we read, from a supposedly authentic source that in spite of the outward disagreement between Washington and Moscow that the two nations are rapidly reaching a friendly agreement on all points of differences. We read that the Reds bluffed as long as they could get away with it, and are now willing to sit down and talk turkey. As a result, we heard that it is London which is getting worried because of the closer cooperation. London wants to be in the position of playing both ends, and doesn't appreciate having the U. S. get too chummy with Stalin and his advisers. As a matter of fact, we have nothing to gain by being angry with either London or Moscow. The closer we can establish contact with both, the better we shall be off in the future.

Beauford Jester, chairman of the State Railroad Commission, has announced as a candidate for Governor. The announcement causes the reader to wonder. Does it mean that Governor Coke Stevenson has definitely decided not to run for a third term? It has been generally conceded that Jester was pretty close to Stevenson and would not run if the Governor was in the race. Jester's term on the Railroad Commission expires this year. He is gambling his political future on the governor's race. This being the case one is led to believe that there must be an understanding between the Governor and Jester. But we shall have to wait developments. Politics make men do crazy things—sometimes.

Those who served on Selective Service Boards during the war and were eligible to receive "decorations" have not been over-enthusiastic about the deal. Four men served for two years or more in Randall county and were eligible for these medals. Only one went to the meeting where the awards were given. We note by the press that only a small percentage of those eligible in every district of the state attended these group meetings. In the first place, men who accepted these thankless jobs were not looking for such public functions; and in the second place, after having given so much of their time in the past they did not feel justified in taking more time to hear an officer make a speech of praise. Maybe folks are funny, but the Lord made them that way.

Bernard Baruch is given credit with having found the solution for the steel strike settlement. The facts are that if Roosevelt had been willing to accept the Baruch formula la during the war we would not have had all the labor difficulties. Baruch advocated that all prices be frozen, and that all disputes be outlawed for the duration. Roosevelt refused to freeze labor, and union leaders took advantage of the situation. And see what happened.

Warplanes Become Metal Scrap Piles

Disassembly Process Under Way on Large Scale.

WALNUT RIDGE, ARK. — Old warplanes do not die, they simply come apart.

This disassembly process, getting under way on a large scale at the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's aircraft storage depot, is a step in the program for turning some 4,000 useless military planes into usable stock piles of equipment and metal.

The RFC, the surplus property administration and the army air forces combined in a tour of Walnut Ridge to demonstrate this phase of the solution to the surplus warplane problem.

Nearly 4,000 airplanes, mostly bombers and fighters, are parked in neat rows over much of the depot's five square miles. One in 10 will be saved from the smelter and "pickled" for later disposition — donation to a school for classroom work in aviation, given to a city wishing a warplane memorial, or possibly being used for research and experiment.

Some of the planes are shining new combat types flown directly from the factory. An outstanding example are the Consolidated Vultee B-24 bombers, announced last summer as a running mate of the B-29 superfortress but coming into production too late for more than a quick taste of fighting.

There were 87 of the huge B-24s on the field awaiting the salvage process. They, like other planes lined up near them, are being stripped of all usable equipment — radar, radio, flight instruments, tires, engines and armament — before being prepared for storage or converted as scrap metal by smelting.

Walnut Ridge is one of six major storage depots. The others are at Altus and Clinton, Okla.; Kingman, Ariz.; Augusta, Ga., and Ontario, Calif. Surplus military aircraft are flown directly from the war theaters to the depots.

Sits in Rocking Chair, Bags Giant Buck Deer

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C. — An "Old Rocking Chair" had him, but he had a gun instead of a cane by his side. And as a result, Lon Bolich of Winston-Salem, bagged one of the largest buck deer killed to date in North Carolina.

Bolich, vice president of the Atlantic and East Carolina Railroad company, temporarily unable to walk, went deer hunting with a party in Carteret county. He was placed in a rocking chair on the banks of Newport river.

While other members of the party went off in search of their quarry, Bolich sat peacefully in his chair. With his gun draped across his lap, Bolich was dozing in the sun when he heard one of his fellow hunters cry out, "Lon, he's heading for the river! Git him!"

The deer came crashing through the woods and Bolich took careful aim. When the hunters arrived on the scene, Bolich was rocking placidly in the chair, the buck lying almost at his feet.

Scientist Finds Way to Eliminate Bread Mold

NEW YORK. — A 34-year-old food scientist has harnessed electronics to eliminate bread mold, a problem which has baffled bakers and householders since the first batch of bread was turned out in Biblical times.

Dr. William H. Cathcart, young director of the A and P bakery laboratories, recently found that by "broadcasting" high frequency heat through wrapped loaves, he could kill the mold spores which take a toll of well over 150 million pounds of bread each year.

In his successful experiments he employed an electronic "oven" which generates dielectric heat, a force that instantly penetrates the loaf and within five seconds renders it mold-proof without affecting taste or texture.

"Up to now commercial bakers have added certain retardants to their dough, but these chemicals merely slow down the mold growth," Dr. Cathcart said. "Electronic heat, on the other hand, completely eliminates the mold spores and is a potential weapon against costly infection of cereal and grain products as well as baked goods."

Japanese Report 126,000 Killed at Hiroshima

TOKYO. — The Domei agency said recently that 126,000 persons were killed at Hiroshima by the first atomic bombing.

Instantly killed, 66,000; died of injuries, 60,000; missing and believed dead, 10,000; seriously injured, 14,000; slightly injured, 104,000.

Wife of First W. T. President to Buy Chapel Pulpit Furniture

Pulpit furniture for the West Texas State chapel will be purchased by Mrs. R. B. Cousins, wife of the late first president of this college. She requested this privilege. Dr. R. B. Cousins, one time state superintendent, became the first president of West Texas State in 1910. He resigned to enter private business and was succeeded by Dr. J. A. Hill in 1918. Later he was president of Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville. Throughout the years his interest in West Texas State remained strong.

Mrs. Cousins will buy the chapel pulpit, three chairs, a communion table, and a lectern. The cost will exceed $850.

All of the furnishings of the chapel will be bought by persons making specific requests. Similarly, most of the windows have been reserved. Contributions are being received by President Hill from residents of many parts of the Southwest. Approximately half of the goal of $50,000 has been attained.

Oma Robertson Is Bride of Rayburn McKee on Sunday

By Holly Hinkle

White cathedral tapers in seven-branch candelabra lighted the First Christian Church here Sunday afternoon, February 17, when Oma Robertson and Rayburn McKee were married at 3 o'clock. The altar was banked with ferns, palms, and white snapdragons.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Robertson, long-time residents of Wellington. She was living in Canyon at the time of her marriage. Mr. McKee, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mrs. K. E. Frieze, pianist, played "Love Song" by Cadman, and "Indian Love Call" by Friml. During the ceremony she played "I Love You Truly," by Carrie Jacobs Bond. The wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelsohn were used as the processional and the recessional. Mrs. Frieze was wearing a pink carnation corsage on a blue dress.

Mrs. Prentis McKee, matron of honor, wore a blue net dress and carried a colonial bouquet.

Dorothy Robertson and Jewel Sanders, bridesmaids, wore net dresses of the same style, one aqua and one pink, and carried colonial bouquets.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white dress of lace and net, and a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white lilies.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore white gardenia corsages, and all of the men participating in the wedding wore white carnations as boutonnières.

Many Ready to Pay for Homes

Survey by Magazine Shows That Families Have Cash Saved Up.

NEW YORK.—A survey just published by Architectural Forum magazine, which calls it the first precision sampling of its kind, shows that 2,778,000 of the nation's 37,000,000 families have the money ready to buy or build homes within the next three years, but only about 555,600 intend to sign on the dotted line within one year.

The Forum editors said the survey, conducted from September of last year to February of this year, was based on personal interviews with heads of 8,502 families selected to give a cross section as to geographic, economic and cultural factors. It aimed at "a clear-cut distinction between those who are hoping to become homeowners and those who are ready to hand over down payments whenever the building starts."

Many Interested.

Pointing up this distinction, the survey disclosed that one of every three families in the United States is "interested" in owning a home at some time, but only 7.5 per cent of all the families can be called good prospects, with concrete plans they intend to execute within three years.

All the good prospects have money in the bank now, the survey showed. 56 per cent of them having bought bonds or saved specifically for their postwar homes. Only 16 per cent were afraid they might lack enough immediate cash.

A smaller group, 1.5 per cent of the nation's breadwinners, are sure prospects. They "plan to buy or build before the end of the first year after the war, have taken important steps toward owning, are certain of their plans, and see no reason for delay."

Estimate Building.

If all the sure prospects buy new houses, the Forum tells members of the building trades 555,600 homes will be built; but the magazine estimates that one-quarter of them will buy existing houses, reducing the new home market for the next year to about 442,000.

The greatest proportion of good prospects—31.1 per cent—live in the central United States region, the survey showed. The South was second with 28.1 per cent, the West accounted for 22.4 per cent, and the Northeast region trailed with 18.4 per cent.

Forum concludes that lower income groups provide the bulk of the market for homes, as 71.9 per cent of the good prospects were working with a family income of under $4,000.

Sixty-five per cent of the urban good prospects intend to spend under $7,000 on a home, 36 per cent under $5,000.

'Dragon Lady' Clears 100 Miles of China Coast

SHANGHAI.—One hundred miles of the China coast and many offshore islands were cleared of Japanese and patrolled mainly by seagoing junks preparatory to the expected American landing—through the efforts of a Chinese woman guerrilla leader and a former Shanghai policeman.

The identity of the woman still is a secret but she is known familiarly as Dragon Lady.

The man is Army Lt. Phillip Bradford of Nashville, Tenn., who knew Chinese, having served with the Shanghai police force from 1925 to 1929.

The Dragon Lady decided seven years ago she could never live at peace with the Japanese in her native section in Chekiang province. She has no weapons but she did have strength and intelligence.

With two men friends she entered a Japanese town and knifed the sentries to obtain their guns. When she had a few weapons she acquired more friends who were willing to fight. Soon she had guerrillas operating on a wide scale in the Kiangnan plain.

Few Fanatics Are Left, Japanese Reporter Says

ATSUGI AIRBORNE.—Mao Kato, Japanese Domei news agency correspondent, told American newsmen that there still are a few "Kamikaze" suicide elements in Japan, but they are rapidly being brought under control.

Kato, who worked in Washington, D. C., for Domei for five years and was there when the war broke out, said the imperial government had disarmed almost all the Kamikaze elements. He did not believe there would be any serious difficulty over the occupation.

He said the Japanese secret police was being rapidly disbanded.

Site Is Selected for Stadium in Washington

WASHINGTON.—A site at the foot of East Capitol street has been selected by the national stadium commission for Washington's proposed $25,000,000 national war memorial. The stadium would seat approximately 177,000 persons and be used for the Olympic games, perhaps in 1948, outstanding football games, various other athletic events, world fair exhibits and large assemblages.

Texas joined the Union as an independent republic.

Treasury Clerk Is Careful; Needs Be

He Signs 250 Billion of United States Checks.

WASHINGTON.—Guy Fletcher Allen is a very careful man. After all, a man who has signed 250 billion government checks in 12 years has to be careful.

That's part of the reason he's kept a record—every year since 1913—of every penny he's spent. When he retires in the near future, the chief disbursing officer of the U. S. treasury will have used up the 32nd of a series of little black books for that personal record.

The men who work with the tall, quiet, 64-year-old treasury official say he's no penny-pincher. Allen says the same. But he points out: "When your friends take a look at the job you hold, handling hundreds of thousands of checks—this year it will be about 120,000,000—they just automatically make you treasurer of the lodge or club or neighborhood association."

"My records have helped me keep their money separate from mine. It's a rut, but not such a bad one."

In 44 years with the treasury his office has only made one little mistake—the government wrote out a check for $1,000,000 more than the $19 that was due.

It never was cashed, of course, but it made a pretty good story about four years ago.

The check was to be paid to a farmer. A girl, substituting for the regular operator of the check-writing machine, punched the million-dollar column by mistake. Out came the check for $1,000,019.

A watchful checker caught it and turned it back for correction. But it must have been a Jonah, for out it went again to a very surprised farmer.

As a joke, he said, he took it to the local bank and there an amazed teller, with one foot feeling for the bank alarm, phoned the secret service.

They came and picked up the check. And when they investigated it, one treasury clerk explained:

"Oh, yes, I saw it. But I thought no one could make a mistake of $1,000,000."

Ducks and Geese Cannot Fly in Moulting Season

NEW YORK.—Few hunters realize that fast flying ducks and geese actually cannot fly for a period of several weeks during the summer.

The explanation for this oddity has been given by Charles E. Gillham, noted former government biologist, now chief of the Western-Winchester Sportsmen's service bureau of Olin Industries, Inc.

The reason is simple, reveals Gillham who spent almost 20 years studying wild life. The non-flight period occurs during their moulting season, which also coincides with the period when the young are in their downy stage and are growing their flight feathers, says Gillham.

In any other place but the far north, it would be fatal for flyers, young or old, to be without wings. Nature provides protection to the flightless by teaching them to dive to escape their enemies and by giving them 24 hours of daylight which they spend in uninterrupted feeding.

This is nature's provision to enable the birds to grow with tremendous rapidity in the short intervals between the thaw and freezing of the lakes and streams of the far north.

Claim 450 Miles an Hour For New Flying Swordfish

SEATTLE.—A fast new fighter plane with a long propeller hub that makes it look a bit like a swordfish in flight was announced by the Boeing Aircraft company. It said that the ship could go more than 450 miles per hour.

The overlong hub mounts the two propellers which operate in tandem off the single 3,600-horsepower, air-cooled engine, rotating in opposite directions.

Boeing called it the most versatile aircraft ever manufactured. It said the plane could carry 6,400 pounds of bombs or two one-ton torpedoes, intercept or attack, and had a service ceiling comparable to the B-29 Superfortress.

Herring Head Figures in Berlin Bread Recipe

BERLIN, GERMANY.—The Berlin press published this recipe recently as one of a series of helpful hints to harassed hausfrauen: "Herring flavored bread: Take herring head, remove eyes; boil head with bones, strain off liquid and mix with flour, adding salt and vinegar to taste. This should be served with onion rings or chopped turnip to get the full effect."

Pilot Brings His Dog From Britain by Air

ADRIAN, MICH.—When Lt. Paul Valentine, a bomber pilot, arrived home from England he brought a dog, "Rocky," that he acquired in London. "Rocky" flew with him from Britain to the States and then accompanied him home. Valentine is the son of the Rev. G. Arthur Valentine, Church of Christ pastor.

The wise man is never wiser than his companions.

Calves Win Tilt With Mustangs

Winning their twenty-third victory this season, the Calves defeated the Claude Mustangs 38-29. They have scored 1034 points to their opponents' 673. There are four more games to be played this season.

Tuesday evening the Calves poured 38 points into the basket to defeat the Claude Mustangs for the second time this season.

Russell racked up 18 points to take scoring honors of the day. Hooper accounted for 13. Wilson led the opponents with seven points. Although the season is practically over, the Calves are still practicing, mainly preparing for the Amarillo game.

HAVE YOUR TRACTOR TIRES

Hydro-Flated

They Will

Hydro-Flation . . . the Firestone method of liquid weighting your tractor tires . . . not only increases the pulling power of your tires because of the weight it adds, but your tires also pull better because they clean better.

Your tires will last longer, too. Hydro-Flation, by increasing the weight and stability of your tires, minimizes slippage and, consequently, lessens wear on the tread. Because of the importance of these features, the Firestone Hydro-Flator was developed, so that your tires can be quickly and easily filled to the proper level.

Beware

Be absolutely certain that an air cushion is left in your tires when you have them liquid-weighted. This is extremely important. Air is 20,000 times more compressible than water. When your tires are Hydro-Flated, you get the advantage of added weight plus an air cushion that absorbs impacts and gives you smoother riding. Tires filled 100 per cent with liquid have the riding qualities of a solid tire, and the cord bodies are damaged easily even by slight impacts.

Army Doctor to Stick to Chute

Believes There is Future In Aerial Rescue Work; Had Thrills in War.

GREAT FALLS, MONT. — Capt. Amos Little is a little guy with big ideas about the future. He's a 5-foot, 4-inch parachuting doctor, who thinks there is a future in aerial rescue work, says the Associated Press.

After 47 rescue leaps—most of them in the rugged mountains of Montana, Wyoming and Colorado—the 29-year-old army doctor says:

"When I get out of this man's army, I plan to take a couple of years' residence in orthopedics, settle in this Northwest country, build up a private practice and continue with aerial rescue work."

"There's a definite need for it."

Caught in Mountains. "Many people stricken or injured in the mountains, or other out-of-the-way places, die because medical care doesn't reach 'em quick enough."

The brown-eyed little captain is from Marlboro, Mass. He's a graduate of Dartmouth and of Johns Hopkins medical school who volunteered for aerial rescue work in 1943.

He is stationed at Great Falls, a member of the army's second force search and rescue unit.

"There's nothing to it," the captain says. But . . .

A few hours after an army B-17 bomber, carrying 10 crewmen, crashed into barren Crown Peak in the "Hell's Half Acre" country west of Fort Collins, Colo., last year, the doctor was flying to the rescue of injured survivors.

"Soon as we spied the crackup, I dropped my specially designed, 85-pound medical kit, consisting of equipment for treatment of shock, burns, fractures, lacerations and other emergencies."

Tough Experience. "It landed within 25 feet of the mangled B-17—but my landing was not quite as good. . . .

"I bailed out at 12,500 feet—about 1,000 feet above the craggy mountain top where the wreckage was. A wind carried me a couple blocks below the crash, and I thought I was a goner for a minute."

"As I approached the ground my chute snagged an old dead tree and I fell about 30 feet with that big tree right after me. It landed with a hell of a thud a few inches from my head."

"It took me four and a half hours to climb back up to the crash. Three of the men had been killed instantly. The tail gunner died shortly before I arrived."

"The three seriously injured men were treated and ready to be moved when ground parties arrived."

"There's really nothing to it," the captain asserts. "Safer than riding in a New York taxi."

Game Warden: Are the fish biting today?

Weary Angler: I don't know. If they are, they're biting each other.

Boos: James, I wish you wouldn't whistle while you work.

James: I wasn't working; I was just whistling.

WAKE UP, YOUTH!

Hey, you kids!—What's the matter?

Seriously now, out of a class composed of thirteen members, one person was actually sitting up straight. Of course, it's nothing unusual to see boys' feet stretching far under the desk in front, students just about to slide out of their desks onto the floor, and round shoulders too common to be noticed; but when someone sits and walks with shoulders straight, and a few other necessary posture elements, he's regarded as a zombie or something worse.

Why the peepless droops slump down the halls, wondering why they don't feel wonderful every day, and blaming it all on boring teachers and classes, the few who hold themselves correctly gain full enjoyment. Wake up youth, and live!

PLAYING HOOKEY

The alarm went off. I jumped as if I were in a very mischievous mood. Oh! just the thought of school made me feel awful. Just then I made up my mind. I was not going to school that day. First I ate breakfast and off I went to school. That's what mother thought! I made for the creek. This would be the best day of my life, I thought. The story was reversed when I got back home. I believe that my dad had the most fun after all. But now he needs a new belt.

Sixty-four Seventh graders attended under the sponsorship of Mrs. R. E. Ball.

The topic of his discussion is "Managing Your Moods." The fourth grade rhythm band will play two selections, "Oh Dear, What Can the Matter Be?" and "Marching, Here We Go!" The program is to be followed by a short social period. All parents and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. W. T. Collins took advantage of the holiday by observing the first grade of the Demonstration School Friday. From Altus, Oklahoma, comes Joy Kline who enrolled in the first grade this week. The class has constructed a miniature post office in connection with their unit on communication. They are now studying letter writing. The students held recent discussions on the characteristics of a good citizen during which they made a short study of the life of George Washington.

Larry Goodrich of Mrs. Joe Black's first grade moved to Amarillo this week. Arthur Harding, also of this class has been ill for several days.

Surprising Mrs. A. K. Goodman's third grade with a party last Thursday were Mrs. Lill, Mrs. McGehee and Mrs. Miller, room mothers who served ice cream, and cookies made in the shapes of hearts and hatches to the students. Handmade heart shaped napkins were given as favors. Annette Evans withdrew from the third grade this week. The family moved to Amarillo.

Finishing their study of Lincoln, Mrs. Gillispie's third grade is now studying the life of George Washington. This room is decorated with profiles of Washington and Lincoln. The students had their Valentine box Thursday, after which Mrs. Crow, Mrs. Burrows, and Mrs. Flache served refreshments.

Beginning a new study of food, clothing and shelter, Mrs. Murrell's second grade students are reading and drawing pictures concerning this unit. Delores Siemp of Edinburg, Texas, and Linda Kline of Altus, Oklahoma are new students in this class.

Mrs. Walter Graham surprised Mrs. Cousins' third grade students Thursday afternoon with hot chocolate and cup cakes. This class is beginning a new unit on cereals. In connection with this study they have planted wheat and corn in containers in their room and are observing its growth. Their room is decorated with pictures, which the students have drawn and cut from magazines. On display is an exhibit of corn in its various forms, its by-products, such as corn starch, corn syrup, sugar, etc. The students are also studying the weather and have recently prepared an outline on this subject.

Mrs. Wagner has been substituting for Mrs. Tom Brasher who is recovering from a recent illness.

Selected as Valentine Queen of 5J was Barbara Ganton. Students of this class elected her for this honor last Thursday.

5J entertained 5W with a Valentine program tea Thursday afternoon. Red and white sweet peas and white candles decorated the table. Mrs. Walsh poured punch from a crystal punch bowl. Sandwiches and cookies were also served. Students presented Mrs. Walsh with a Valentine corsage. Special guests were Miss Fronabarger, Mrs. Stewart, and Dr. Speer. Appearing on the program were E. Ray Pyeatt, Evira Boyd, and Geraldine Pope, who played various selections on the piano; Barbara Ganton who played a violin solo and Mozelle Young who gave a tap dance accompanied by Virginia Thomas at the piano.

FHA Members Have Valentine Banquet

In the candle-lit dining hall of the Methodist Church, members of the Future Homemakers of America entertained their guests with a Sweetheart Banquet, Thursday night, February 14.

Opening the program, Janey Forrester and Scharlean Pyeatt led the group in singing "Daisy." "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," and "It's Been a Long, Long Time." A quartet composed of Cheri Kilchriste, Frances Gooch, Louise Dickinson and Anita Johnson sang two selections, "Symphony," and "Put Your Arms Around Me, Honey." Members of the quartet were attired in white formal and wore black velvet chokers and wrist bands. Mrs. Glenn Dowlen played the piano. After the invocation, given by Mr. Tommie J. Cole, Mrs. W. F. Bonds, Mrs. W. W. Nicklaus, Mrs. Earl Davis, Mrs. S. McDougal, Mrs. Gladys Haines and Mrs. Mary Gillispie, the club mothers served the three course dinner. Betty Jean Schuette assisted with the serving, in the absence of her mother.

Following the dinner, Martha Jean Arent read a Valentine prophecy predicting situations, which according to the author, will probably be occurring ten years from now.

In conclusion, the group sang "Sing Your Way Home," the F. H. A. club song.

Exhibit Attracts Various Visitors

Beginning Friday, February 15, in the grade school music room, the 180 paintings from the Colonial Art Company were exhibited and the showing will continue through February 22. These American and foreign paintings were moved to room 27 in the high school building Monday, delaying the exhibition.

High school students viewed the pieces of art during classes in the morning while the students of the grade school visited in the afternoon.

A painting will be presented to the class that sells the most entrance tickets provided $80 worth are sold by the entire student body.

Graduating Students Offered Chance for Science Award

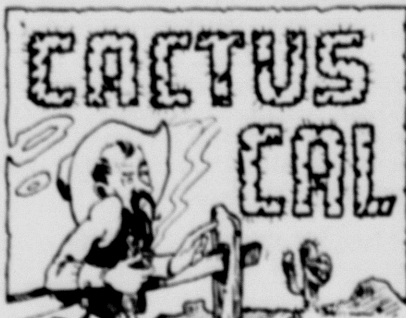

"Bauch & Lomb of Rochester, New York will award prizes to the most outstanding science student of Canyon High School for the year of 1946," states Principal T. J. Cole.

Seniors only will be eligible to receive this award. Faculty members will be the judges and the winner will be announced at the close of the spring semester.

A bronze and silver medal will be given the winning senior, and in addition, he may enter the National contest to receive cash prizes, the lowest being $1,500. This money can be used only for college education.

Betty Ann Miller, Anita Johnson, Geraldine Small, Cheri Kilchriste and Ruth Prichard, of the Annual Staff, worked on the yearbook, "Soaring Wings," Friday, Feb. 15. About one half of the copy was mailed to Taylor Engraving Corporation. Now that the remaining retakes have arrived for the annual, material will be mailed to the printing company by February 22.

party. Mrs. G. H. Prichard served the refreshments to the group.

Mix the boys with the girls. Add music—half sweet, half swing, with Harry James, Dick Haymes and Johnny Mercer. Add games at regular intervals. Result—lots of fun had at the Senior party, February 13. How 'bout that?

Among the couples at the F. H. A. Sweetheart Banquet were Billie Bonds, Ray McDonald; Earline Davis, Kenneth Fisher; Pauline Seales, Lee Bailey; Louise Friemel, Bill Roberts, (who, by the way didn't show up. Wonder what could've happened?) and Scharlean Pyeatt and Don Hickman.

Two very cute couples on the campus are Golden Currie and Suzanne Stephenson and Sue Gillispie and Clifford Burtz.

It seems that C. L. Hood has a very good picture of Letha Harwood and Orville Turner in his bill fold. Why don't some bright critter turn it in for the annual?

Nelda Ruthardt, was that a good box of Valentine candy that you received from Bobby Ratliff? Not bad! Not bad!

Man alive! What did that English IV teacher, Mrs. Wilma C. Hornstra expect when she gave her class some very difficult words to define and make sensible sentences? Just to show how difficult, here are some words that were made into sentences:

1. distort: "dis tart is tough"
2. envy: "the envy climbed all over the garage"
3. supercilious: "she was the most super sillious person!"
4. seer: "Oh, I see 'er"
5. circumspect: "He circumspected the circle"
6. insipid: "She insipid all over her dress!"
7. piquant: "Her piquant was showing."
8. tractable and ponder: "He drove the tractable around the pond er and uh"
9. supplant: "The soup plant had noodles in it!"

See what I mean?

Sometimes back, Mrs. Cecil Simms lost her keys—well, she inquired all around, and somehow Mrs. A. K. Knott picked them up. Was it on purpose, Mrs. Knott?

During class in Mrs. Nora Gilmore's room, Marshall Walker said, "What are myths? Are they females to moths?" Well, could be, but we don't think so!

Is Geraldine really Small? Is Charles really right? Is Wilbert really long? Is Tommie J. really COLD? Does Barbara really have a head? Is Chloe Ann really black? Does Bruce really win? Is Speer really Sharp? Is Louise really a little Dickens, son?

Tune in next week, folks, we don't know.

Typing students wrote the following letters to the principal:

Dear Mr. Cole,

In regards to my daughter's absence, would you please excuse her for being absent January 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and the rest of the month of January.

She wouldn't go to school because she insisted on seeing how it would feel to have a few additional days off for Christmas. Next year, see if you can't help her a little so she won't have to stay at home and miss so much school. Of course I know as well as you do, she really doesn't need it. She is so brilliant.

Most sincerely yours,

Mrs. Joe Currie.

Dear Mr. Cole,

Please excuse Louise for being absent yesterday, January 29. She had to go to court.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Lewis Tucke.

Dear Mr. Cole,

Please excuse Thomas Jefferson James Brian Van Rope Henry Washington Lee Bob Robert Bon Van Turner from school. He went fishing.

Mrs. Bingham.

Dear Mr. Cole,

Will you please excuse Eloise for being absent last week? Monday she had to go to Amarillo to get some things for me, and since the stores are so crowded and it was so hard to find anything, she had a very hard time getting home. The shopping trip took so much of her energy that I felt she should rest Tuesday. She was unable to be at school Wednesday because the show we saw Tuesday gave her a sick headache. On the next day, Thursday, she was completely exhausted and needed rest. Since she had been unable to attend school all the week, I felt it a waste of time to send her to school on Friday.

Thank you very much,

Mrs. C. B. Adams.

Dear Mr. Col,

My greel asks me to writ U a xuse to U for her absenct at scool. I deed not know that she wer absenct but ifen she wer, i pursum that she need an xuse. Therfor i hereby xacuse me greel fer being absenct yesterday.

In Algebra I, Mrs. Knott asked James Bible how he would get rid of fractions in an Algebra problem. To this he replied, "Just take 'em out."

Ex-Governor North Carolina to Speak on Baptist Hour

Hon. J. M. Broughton of Raleigh, North Carolina, ex-governor of his state, will be the speaker on the Southern Baptist Hour Sunday, Feb. 24, and may be heard over KQNC of Amarillo. Mr. Broughton is an outstanding lawyer and has been superintendent of his Sunday School since 1941. His subject, "Christian Men for Tomorrow's World" will be of special interest to the manhood of America.

Mr. Broughton will be introduced by Ellis Arnall of Georgia, a Baptist deacon who for years has been teacher of a Men's Bible Class.

On last Sunday, Feb. 17, the Baptist Hour stood aside for a special broadcast by the Methodist Hour, the speaker, Dr. Douglas Hudgins scheduled to speak then, will be heard in a new Baptist Hour series beginning next July.

A man bought a canary from an animal dealer.

"You're sure this bird can sing?" he asked, suspiciously.

"He's a grand singer."

The customer left. A week later he reappeared.

"Say! This bird you sold me is lame!"

"Well, what did you want—a singer or a dancer?"

Immigration Official: I'm sorry, but there's been a mistake here. We've got your hair down as dark instead of blond.

Modern Young lady: Oh, that's all right. Will you alter it, or shall I?

Jimmie: "Pa did you go to Sunday School when you were my age?"

Pa: "Certainly! I never missed a Sunday."

Jimmie: "Well, dad, I think I'll quit going. It isn't doing me any good, either."

Boggy: The more I study about it, the more certain I am that people inherit most of their stupidity.

Woogy: Shame on you!—you shouldn't speak ill of your parents.

Food to Spare For the Hungry

Farm Report Paints Picture of European Hunger, American Plenty.

WASHINGTON. — A picture of European hunger and American plenty was drawn in a report by the agriculture department which may presage a drive for early congressional action on a recommendation for an appropriation of $1,900,000,000 for foreign relief, says the Associated Press.

The need in continental Europe for large shipments of foodstuffs from other parts of the world in 1945 and 1946 is acute, according to the report. In the United States civilian supplies this fall and winter will be significantly easier than they have been so far in 1945.

Discussing the European situation in greater detail, the report added: "It is thus plain that only substantial food imports from outside sources can save millions of Europeans from near-starvation in the coming winter."

Depends on Congress.

Extensive aid for Europe from this country will depend largely upon what congress does about funds for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration. Congress has made no move yet to act upon a request from President Truman, made recently.

The agriculture department has a special interest in the UNRRA recommendation. Sales of food to this agency could well provide an outlet for extra food supplies which otherwise might depress farm prices.

The department said this country could easily spare substantial quantities of canned meats, some fresh and frozen meats of lower grades, some cheaper types of canned fish, canned and powdered milk, eggs, cheese, potatoes, some dry beans and peas, dried fruits, rice, some corn and wheat.

The administration may press congress for early decision on the foreign relief matter for still another reason. The agriculture department cannot make plans for next year's farm production until it gets a fair idea of how much of this year's production may be shipped abroad.

Food Situation.

The domestic food situation was described more fully as follows:

This fall and winter, the domestic civilian supplies of meats, canned fish, canned fruits, fruit juices and vegetables, turkey, chicken, dried skim milk and dried whole milk, canned milk, fluid cream and potatoes will be materially larger than those of recent months and much larger than in the same period last year.

"In fact more potatoes, more eggs, and more of the lower grades of beef may be available than civilians will demand at present prices," said the report.

A moderate improvement in supplies of butter, cheese, pork, and most fats and oils is expected this fall and winter.

It is said that the sugar situation will improve moderately in the spring if the Cuban crop turns out well, but no substantial increase in world supplies can be expected before early 1947.

Cereal products, except those requiring relatively large quantities of fats and sugar, fresh vegetables, citrus fruits, fresh and frozen fish, frozen fruits and vegetables, and fluid milk, will continue plentiful.

New Statistics Method Termed More Accurate

NEW YORK. — Columbia university made public recently a war-developed statistical method which it said analyzes data while they are being collected rather than afterward, reduces by about 50 per cent the amount of data needed, and eliminates a large proportion of errors to which conclusions based on sampling are liable.

The method, "sequential analysis of statistical data," is described in a report prepared for the office of scientific research and development and published by the Columbia university press. The information formerly was on the government's restricted list.

Two Spy Pigeons Sell For $3,120 in England

LONDON. — Two of the RAF's "spy" pigeons have been sold for 780 pounds ($3,120) to a fancier who intends to use them for founding a string of racers.

Both birds are veterans of more than three years of war work. Their specialty was counter-espionage — dropping out of planes behind enemy lines and carrying back messages from underground agents.

Boards on Raw Materials To Continue to Function

LONDON. — The Anglo-American-Canadian combined production resources and raw materials boards will continue operating "for the time being" to prevent any breakdown in the moving of critical supplies, the British ministry announced.

Last January the three governments announced that they would cease the boards' operations with the end of the Jap war.
